COFFEYVILLE RESOURCES ESTABLISHES TOLL-FREE CLAIMS CENTER LINE

COFFEYVILLE, Kan. (July 5, 2007) – Coffeyville Resources today announced it has established a toll-free number to help local residents file claims related to recent flooding and an oil overflow at its local refinery.

Call center operators collect the property owner's information and then forward it to our claims adjustors. The claims adjustors will contact the property owners to schedule an appointment as soon as possible. Operators also will be able to direct callers to local, state and federal disaster response agencies for additional assistance.

The toll-free number, which will be answered 24 hours a day, 7 days a week is 1-800-958-5380.

"We are committed to helping our neighbors in the community recover from this disaster as quickly as possible, even as we work to restore operations at our facilities," said Jack Lipinski, chief executive officer of Coffeyville Resources. "We're all in this together."

Company officials have been invited to meet with U.S. Sen. Sam Brownback and U.S. Sen. Pat Roberts, U.S. Rep. Todd Tiahrt and several civic and community leaders in Coffeyville as a part of a tour of the area, which includes the Coffeyville Resources facilities.

"We are coordinating closely with city, state and federal agencies as they work to mitigate the environmental impact of the oil overflow, and are actively reaching out to those people affected," Lipinski said.

Besides establishing its toll-free claims center line, Coffeyville Resources also announced it will make a $25,000 contribution, as well as a dollar-for-dollar match of employee donations, to the local chapter of the American Red Cross to assist local families who have been displaced by recent flooding and covering all expenses of the area animal rescue operation.
